LASOM Statement of Purpose:

The Louisiana District School of Ministry exists to provide training for those sensing a call to ministry, whether as credentialed ministers of the Assemblies of God, or as equipped laypersons within the local church. LASOM commits itself to provide training courses that meet District and General Council educational requirements for ministerial credentials.

Furthermore, LASOM seeks to fulfill the mission of the Louisiana District Council of the Assemblies of God in developing healthy leaders, churches and ministers.

Internship Purpose/Mission:

The LASOM internship strategy enables students to confirm God's call, develop the Christ like character, gain the competencies of ethical and effective ministry and develop the personal disciplines essential to successful life and ministry. The strategy uses guided "hands on" ministry experiences, interaction with qualified mentors, and the exercise of personal spiritual disciplines to accomplish its mission.

Mentor Qualifications

The selection of an appropriate mentor is critical to the success of the internship process. For the use of the internship protocol, mentor refers to the person overseeing the individual internship. Many times the mentor is the senior pastor but can also be another qualified person, as long as they are an Assemblies of God minister who is fully cooperative and supportive of the ministries and policies of the Louisiana District Council of the Assemblies of God.

(Ex: presbyter, staff pastor, ministries leader, etc.)

Students and mentors should meet frequently during the internship.

- They should meet at least one time during each project to review the student's progress with each project of the internship at each credential level.

More than one mentor may be needed to adequately receive all the information and experience needed to complete each project. While a student's senior pastor will be qualified in several areas, another mentor may serve in a greater capacity concerning ministry involvement and past experiences. If a mentor is unable or unwilling to commit the time needed for the student, the student may end the mentor relationship and continue with a different mentor.

A list of qualified mentors can be provided in the case that a student cannot make the mentor connection on their own. This will come as the result of the student requesting mentor suggestions after consultation with LASOM leadership.

An appropriate and qualified mentor must:

- Be ordained or credentialed at least one level above the credential the student is seeking
- Not be the spouse of the student
- Willingly follow the policies and guidelines of the LASOM internship process
- Review this Internship Protocol thoroughly with the student and assure they understand their role and responsibilities as a mentor.
- Exemplify the best practices in their ministry
- Willingly complete and submit the required LASOM mentor reports
- Write and send in a statement of ministry suitability about the students
- Willingly invest significant time in the intern and internship process
- Refuse to serve as a mentor in those areas in which they lack the expertise or if their involvement is not in the best interest of the student
- Consult with the student about their future plans and internship projects
- Communicate concerns regarding the intern or the internship process to LASOM
